

I do not believe that cell phones should be allowed to be used during a flight. A flight should be accomodating to all that are on the plane. Personal or business conversations can be distracting and even annoying at times.